

Privacy Policy

Bible Extra is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected.

Should you provide your email address in response to the invitation to request inclusion in our mailing list then

- (a) it will be stored securely with Mailchimp, the online software we use for the distribution of publicity emails. Mailchimp has a very high level of security – see Mailchimp Security.
- (b) it will only be used to provide information about Bible Extra and related events organised by members of the organising committee.
- (c) it will not be shared with any other organisation.
